

Lazybones (\lā-zē-bōnz):
an organic blend of down home folkedified bluesy grooves, rockabilly jam 'n' roll, rusty funk to make you MOVE!

For the past 6 years, Lazybones has been consistently performing venues and festivals in and around the Pacific Northwest. They have 4 self-produced discs to their name, with a 5th due for release in the summer of 2009. Live shows and albums consist of a wide range of original sounds: from heavy funky jams to smooth mellow ballads. Each member has a decade or two of experience, so the musicianship and songwriting is always top notch on stage or in the studio.

Lazybones keeps on writing and playing, and the fan base continues to grow.

"This is an egoless band, and each member brings talent to the table. MacRae's sharp licks and killer fills harkento the heyday of Jerry Garcia, while Weller's Hammond-flavored keys are as easygoing as a warm spring day. -Tony Engelhart, Tacoma Weekly Volcano

"Lazybones leave you wanting more: Yes indeed no one likes a lazy bone, but contrary to their namesake Lazybones always satisfies." -Amberine Wilson, Violet Prairie Publishing

Brett Fraser - Bass/Vox
Jeremy Macrae - Guitar/Vox
Erick Bell - Drums/Vox
Jeremy Weller - Keyboards/Vox
